

Trailer Life Ratings - All three ratings are on a scale of 1 to 10, with 10 being the best. Less than 1 percent of parks or campgrounds receive a rating of 10. Campgrounds with a 10/10/10 rating have more facilities, are better maintained and are more visually appealing than 5/5/5 - rated campgrounds. Campgrounds are inspected annually by dedicated RVers like you.

Unannounced, random Quality Checks are also made throughout the year.

Facilities – Completeness of facilities - The first campground rating evaluates completeness and quality of facilities. In this category we rate interior roads, sites, registration area, hookups, recreation, swimming, security, laundry, store and building maintenance.

Restrooms – Cleanliness and physical characteristics of restrooms and showers. - The second rating category concerns restrooms, which RVers are very particular about; therefore, we divide this rating category into two subcategories: cleanliness and physical characteristics.

Trailer Life rates the cleanliness of toilets, walls, showers, sinks/counters/mirrors and floor.

Appeal – Visual Appeal and Environmental Quality. According to our research, nature is the barometer by which most people judge a campground's visual appeal. Parks score points in four subcategories that measure how harmoniously they blend with their natural surroundings: Function, identification, and first impression of the park entrance; landscaping of park and sites; park grounds and sites free of litter and debris; and aesthetics of park and surrounding area.
